SUDDEN DEATH.

Of Mrs. Ann O'Nan yesterday Morning.

Mrs. Ann O'Nan died suddenly yesterday morning at the home of her son, Mr. Luckett O'Nan, near the city. She was 76 years old and had been in poor health for some time. She arose at usual hour and, after partaking of the breakfast, returned to her room and lay down upon the bed. Shortly afterward she was found dead. Deceased is survived by two sons, one of whom resides in Owensboro. The remains will be interred at Owensboro to-day.

DR. JENKENS MAILING LIST

Hopes to Be Cheered By Letters From Home.

SAILED LAST THURSDAY.

Letters This Week Should Be Addressed to Constantinople, Turkey.

New York, Feb. 7.—We will sail today as members of "Clarks Arabic Cruise" and in this letter I can only give directions to those who may wish to write to me. It would cheer the pilgrim a bit to get a letter occasionally from old "Hoptown."

INSTRUCTIONS.

Put "Via London" at the top of the envelope and "Clark's Arabic Cruise" in the left hand corner.

The dates given below are for mailing letters from New York City. Allow additional time for island points.

From February 7 to 13—Address care S. C. Costi, White Star Agent, Athens, Greece.

From February 14 to 15—Address care Gilchrist, Walker & Co., Constantinople, Turkey.

From February 16 to 18.—Address care Clark's Tourist Office, Jerusalem, Palestine.

From February 19 to March 8.—address care Clark's Tourist office, adjoining Shepherd's Hotel, Cairo, Egypt.

From March 9 to 15—Address care White Star Line, 21 Piazza della Borsa, Naples, Italy.

From March 16 to 20.—Address care Schasti & Reali, Bankers, 20 Piazza di Spagna, Rome, Italy.

Till March 28.—Address care American Express Co., 11 Rue Scribe (opera) Paris, France.

Till April 31.—Address care American Express Co., West End, 3 Waterloo Place, (Fall Mail) London, England.

Till April 8.—Address care White Star Line, 30 James St., Liverpool, England.

NOTE.—Postage, 5 cents for each half ounce or fraction (newspapers 4 ounces [or less] for 2 cents and 1 cent for every additional 2 ounces or a fraction thereof).

Friends are requested to affix enough stamps; otherwise passengers will have to pay double postage, and it occasions delay in prompt delivery.

CLARK'S TOURIST AGENCY, 96 Broadway, N. Y.

At least two days will be allowed for a letter to reach New York from Hopkinsville.

1,500 MEN HEAR HOLCOMB

Evangelist Made Strong Plea to Men to Give up Their Besetting Sin.

MEN RUSH FORWARD.

Mass Meeting at Tabernacle Every Night This Week.

It has been evident almost from the first service of the Holcomb meetings that the audiences were too large for comfort at the Methodist church and that the evangelist would require a larger building to accommodate the throngs that have turned out to hear him, regardless of a week of inclement weather.

His first sermon to men Sunday afternoon demonstrated the fact that the men have been aroused. The lowest estimate made places the number in attendance at 1,500. This may be too low by 300. The first floor and the choir platform were full Sunday afternoon, though the seats immediately under the gallery were not quite all occupied, but there were quite a number of colored people in the gallery.

The men were told by Mr. Holcomb that there is nothing that he admires more than a great big, stalwart man—the one who does something and has sense enough to seriously consider questions. He loves big-hearted men, but the "sissy" men—Oh, my! He can't overcome

You are invited to visit my sales. Sales
Every Tuesday and Friday.

Again it is my pleasure to report a rise in the temperature of the Loose Floor sales. Lugs are bringing from $5.50 to $6.50 and leaf from $7.00 to $8.00 and trash brings from $4.00 to $4.50. Now with these prices before you why do you sell at your barn or to the loose dealer? The very cheapest dirtiest pile of trash I had last week brought $1.25 per 100. And I hear of lugs being bought every day for $4.00, so you see what you are losing when you fail to buy your tobacco on the loose. Floor will not cost you more than 25c per 100. Come and see, if you want to save money.

Yours truly

TO SAVE THE CHURCH

PLACE WHERE WASHINGTON WORSHIPPED

Historic Meeting House Made Sacred by Memories of Distinguished Americans to Be Preserved.

There is increasing disposition on the part of patriotic Americans to preserve historic buildings and places, and mark them with suitable memorials or turn them into museums and parks. It is but recently that the body of James Wilson, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, was disinterred and placed in the burial ground of Christ church, Philadelphia, under the very shadow of the hall where the document was signed, and now there is active movement on foot to discover the graves of every one of the signers and to mark them with suitable tablets. Everywhere through the eastern part of the country where the early history of the nation was made there is a growing tendency to discover new and interesting places that were interesting in the lives of the nation's founders, and the latest development in this direction has been the efforts of Rev. G. S. Sonerville, of Falls Church, Va., to obtain money to restore the historic Falls church, of which he is pastor.

This old building is one of the landmarks of the country, and its early history is intimately connected with that of Augustine Washington, George Washington, George Mason and other distinguished Americans. Rev. Sonerville, because of his official connection with the church, was familiar with its early history and realized its value as one of the historic spots of the nation. He became active in efforts to interest others in preserving the building and made a trip to Washington where he presented the matter to the trustees of the American Scenic and Historic Preservation society.

The importance of his suggestions were instantly recognized and a resolution was passed endorsing his efforts to obtain money to restore the building to its old time condition, and undoubtedly the money for this purpose will be forthcoming.

Falls church is situated not far from Mount Vernon, about six miles from Washington and ten miles from Alexandria. It is an oblong structure of brick, laid up in Flemish bond, and is an interesting specimen of colonial architecture. Its two rows of windows were evidently designed to illuminate an interior gallery, but no gallery was built. The walls, two or three feet thick, are crumbling at the top; the cornice is rotting and the interior is sadly dilapidated. This condition is a mortification to the restorers and parliamenters, whose meager resources have been exhausted, and they are appealing to patriotic sentiment in the north to help them in their house of worship in creditable condition for Virginia's tri-centennial year, 1907.

Falls church—so called from the neighboring Little Falls of the Potomac—was built about 1734. George Washington and George Mason were among its vestrymen. Augustine Washington, father of George, was related to the vestry its first rector, in 1736.

One hundred and fifty yards from the church tradition points to the site of a tavern where Gen. Braddock rested while his troops occupied the church and grounds on their ill-fated march to Fort Duquesne.

In the revolutionary war, it is said, the church was recruiting headquarters of Col. Charles Bland, one of Fairfax county's first patriots. From here marched Capt. John Fairfax with his Fairfax volunteers to the Mexican war, and thither his body was taken back and laid to rest. During the civil war the church was in the pathway of the contending armies, to whom it became a landmark. It was used as a hospital for United States Government men and then as a stable. After the war, in the war with Spain a large body of the American army camped near by on grounds which is thus associated with five American wars.

When in England last summer, the secretary of the American Scenic and Historic Preservation society was standing in the village of Washington, in Sulgrave and in Brighton, well preserved stone buildings in which Washington's ancestors were born and lived before America was settled by Englishmen. Yet the house in which George Washington was born in Virginia has disappeared. This scenic society earnestly appeals to patriotic Americans not to let this old Falls church, so intimately associated with the religious life of Washington's character, crumble for want of a few thousand dollars.

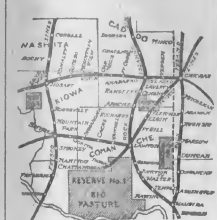

OLD CHIEF GERONIMO

RESENTS LATEST OPENING OF INDIAN LAND TO SETTLEMENT.

Hates and Always Will Hate the White Man for His Taking Possession of Land of the Indians.

There is no Indian living to-day who has so hated the white man as Geronimo. This fierce, bloodthirsty and crafty chief of the Apaches has probably given the government more trouble and been the direct and indirect cause of the death of more white men than any other half dozen chiefs who might be named. And all this because of the unpardonable sin on the part of the white man that he has taken the Indian's lands. Geronimo is now an old man and unable, if he had the opportunity, of resorting to violence the further intrusion of the white man. For this reason, perhaps, the latest opening up of Indian lands in Oklahoma comes with a sharper thrust at bitterness in his heart than would years ago when he could have found relief for his indignation in open rebellion and violence.

The last month of this year has seen the last of the Indian lands in Oklahoma given up to white settlement.

Map Showing Section of Oklahoma Just Opened for Settlement.

ment, and it has called forth a new expression of the unbroken spirit and undiminished hatred of the old Apache chief, who for so many years has been a close prisoner of the United States at Fort Sill, in the Apache reservation. He declares with vehemence that he never did like the white man and that he never will. The intense spirit of the great, awfully Indian chief is manifest in the tightening of the cords of his throat and the backward twist of his head as he spoke.

"No true Apache," he went on to say, "likes the white man. Why should he? He has taken away everything. You have made us prisoners of war for more than 20 years. You have taken us from the only country we can live in and made us live in your new-made lands. You have made our new-born babies and our little children suffer too, though there is nothing you can blame them for. The government has made them so unhappy that they think to all other Indians land has been given. It makes me feel bad in the heart."

Geronimo's tale has delighted to about him. He has formerly roamed, marauding and pillaging, thousands of white settlers have taken up land in the last five years.

A correspondent of the New York World tells of a visit paid to Geronimo's "home." It was a rude brush tent on a cattle creek. While the correspondent sat on a soap box, Geronimo reclined on the other side of the fire and talked through an interpreter of the white man and the taking of the Indian lands.

"Yes, I have seen the white man in prison," he said. "I have seen him come out of the East into my country where there were no men except Indians. When I was a boy we went far to the south into Mexico, the called it Mabe-ko (was a Spaniard) where we went to kill white men and take their cattle. They have bothered us much—the white man. He calls us bad, the Apache, but we do not know what was right, what our fathers, and our grandfathers and our medicine men the little girl translated it doctors, which shows the reservation school training) taught us. We fought like Indians; we were not afraid. When many were killed we were sad in the heart, but we did not talk much—we were Indians. Sometimes we got much in Mexico, sometimes we lost all. Sometimes we were hungry in the winter and sometimes we had much to eat and made many dances."

"The white man fought with us more often than we fought with him. He followed us, never stopping, always killing. He came and took more. White men always hunting us. When we could fight no more, the white man always following us, we made a treaty with him. He said he would take us with our women and children to a new country to live. We went because we could fight no more. They did not keep the promise. They kept us many years alone."

"No, I do not care how many white men come now. You say I look young. That is nice talk, but I am an old man—75 years old. Oklahoma is not my country. Oklahoma is not the home of the Apache. We cannot live in this country. We will get smaller and smaller, and Anglo men will take more land. No, I do not care how many white men come here. I do not see them. I do not think. I think of my own country, where the mountains are and the sky is dry and the sky is there the Apache wants to go; it is there Geronimo wants to go."

The Weather.

FOR KENTUCKY—Partly cloudy Tuesday.

C. W. Oldrieve, the water walker, is below Baton Rouge and expects to reach New Orleans today, and with a $5,000 wage to walk from Pittsburg in New Orleans on the water, using cedar boat-slides.

The Thaw trial became so sensational last week that the postal authorities of Canada barred the published reports from the mails. Mrs. Thaw was cross-examined yesterday by Jerome and some more reports may be expected.

Four men are to be hanged in Kentucky next Friday, two white men and two negroes. They are R. W. Fletcher and Guy Lyon, at Russellville; Ben Huffaker, col., at Edinville; and Jesse Fitzgerald, col., at Lexington.

Skain, the administration candidate, won the nomination in the Democratic majority contest at Lexington. The much-talked-of negro registration certificates were used, but in what quantity is not known. Wilkerson, the defeated majority candidate, stated in an interview that he bowed to the result, and took occasion to deny the story that he would lead a bolt.

All is peace in Lyon and Caldwell counties among the tobacco factions that existed there a few weeks ago and now they say no more burning will occur. All is peace in Trigg and Christian counties also, except the "spat" between the Cadiz Record and Hopkinsville Kentuckian—Livingston Banner.

Why, bless your soul, there has been no "spat," beyond the fact that the Record and its contributors have censured the Kentuckian for publishing the news.

Mr. W. B. Brewer, of Fairview, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for representative in Todd county and we hope to see him win without opposition. There is thought to be some real business men in the next Legislature to correct the mistakes of the last one and repeal the bad laws that are putting the Democratic party on the defensive in what may be a doubtful campaign. Brewer is just the kind of a man needed to represent every county in the State. Todd county has been fortunate in the character and ability of its representatives in the past. Perhaps no county in the State has been better represented as a rule and, with a record of this kind to sustain, Brewer is the man the Democrats ought to be looking for.

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. The Catarrh cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The property has so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

Pure Blood

Is certain if you take Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine cures those eruptions, pimples and boils that appear at all seasons; cures scrofula sores, salt rheum or eczema; adapts itself equally well to, and also cures, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles; cures rheumatism and catarrh; cures nervous troubles, debility and that tired feeling.

SARSAPARILLA—For those who prefer medicine in tablet form, Hood's Sarsaparilla is now put up in elegant tablets called Sarsaparilla, as well as in the usual liquid form. Sarsaparilla have identical the same curative properties as the liquid form, besides accuracy of dose, convenience, economy—no loss by evaporation, breakage, or leakage. Druggists or promptly by mail. C. J. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

BASKET BALL.

Result of Games Last Friday Night.

The second game of the local basketball league, played at S. K. C. gymnasium Friday night, was witnessed by a good crowd. The contest resulted in the defeat of the first team of Company D by the first S. K. C. boys, the score being 22 to 18. Both teams put up a good article of ball.

The second game scheduled to be played between the High School and the Second Company D teams, the same night was declared forfeited to the High School boys by the score of 2 to 0, on account of the failure of Co. D to have a full team on the floor when the game was to start.

The Limit of Life

The most eminent medical scientists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the scientific mind is now possessed. The critical period, that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 and 60; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being fatal to longevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine that revitalizes every vital organ of the body. Guaranteed by R. C. Hardwick, Druggist, 25c.

HOG CHOLERA

The Problem of a Cure is Now Solved.

Dr. J. H. Snoddy, of Alton, Ill., has discovered a positive cure and preventative for this terrible disease. He has had it in use for ten years and has saved millions of dollars' worth of hogs for the public. The directions for its use are simple and easy to follow. Any practical farmer can stop the worst outbreak of cholera that ever came and save every hog that is able to take the treatment.

This treatment is not an expense to a farmer, because it clears his herd of every character of worm and parasite and puts them in such a thrifty condition that the extra gain they will make from the effect of this treatment will return the farmer $5 in this extra gain for every dollar's worth of the remedy used properly and right.

It is the greatest worm remedy known to medical science. It pays a farmer to keep his hogs clear of worms with it. When the hog is clear of worms and in good thrifty condition it is rather a hard matter to infect him with cholera without directly exposing him to the germ. It pays to use the medicine whether there is any cholera around or not.

This wonderful remedy is manufactured by the Dr. J. H. Snoddy Remedy Co., Alton, Ill., and is for sale by Planters Hardware Co., incorporated, of Hopkinsville, and E. S. Snoddy & Dixon, of Madisonville, Ky. Anyone calling on either of these firms can get Dr. Snoddy's free book on hog cholera, free of charge. Every farmer should have one.

OFF FOR JAMESTOWN.

Commissioner Walker Ships Car Load of Kentucky Logs to Virginia.

The car load of Christian county logs for the Jamestown Exposition left here Friday night in a Norfolk and Western car No. 31, 116. They are the first Kentucky logs to be shipped to Jamestown. Mr. J. B. Walker looked after the shipment as representative of the Jamestown Commission. Not less than a dozen kinds of logs were in the shipment. They will be used to construct one of the cabins in the old fort to be reproduced.

The following parties contributed each from one to six logs:
Dr. J. D. Clardy, J. R. Caudle, Jno. C. Gary, A. H. Wallace, R. C. Gary, J. W. Riley, C. L. Dade, J. B. Trice, Robt. Shelton, Fox Holloway, G. H. Stowe, G. L. Campbell, J. J. VanCleave, Ben Moore, Jr., D. H. Armstrong, W. H. Gary and A. M. Henry.

his repugnance for them.

After a solo by Prof. Ragdale, the evangelist launched forth on one of the most powerful sermons yet delivered by him.

He took his text from a part of the 1st and 2nd verses of the 12th chapter of Hebrews: "Let us lay aside every weight and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us, looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith."

He said that every man has some besetting sin. We all come into this world under the same condition, and among all our imperfections there is one great dominant besetting sin. It gets us in its grip and if we do not free ourselves from it, it will drag us down to endless punishment. He then began with the little boy at his mother's knee, up until he was large enough to go to Sunday school; then, when he thought he was too large to go to Sunday school; then on up until he got into manhood, beginning to yield to the allurements of the world and finally becoming a libertine, a drunkard, a swearer, a gambler, or a murderer.

Mr. Holcomb was most intensely in earnest and made one of the strongest pleas for the men to turn away from their besetting sin, whatever it may be, that has ever been heard in the tabernacle.

When he concluded he was almost exhausted. It is clear that Mr. Holcomb, who is not a stout man by a great deal, cannot endure his labor without impairing his health. He asked all the members of the different churches who felt like they wanted to live better lives and all men out of the church who wanted to cut loose from their besetting sin to go forward and give him their hand. This call was answered by hundreds, among them were a large number of men who do not attend church and have not for years, if ever, taken any interest in religion. Mr. Holcomb's face was beaming with happiness as the throng gathered about him, and pulling off his coat, he shook hands until he was almost broken down.

SUNDAY NIGHT.

Limited space will not allow us to speak at length of the mass meeting Sunday night. Mr. Holcomb chose as his text the twelfth verse of the fourth chapter of Amos: "Prepare to meet thy God." The sermon was most serious from beginning to end and received the closest attention of all present. When the call was made for all present who wanted to prepare to meet their God, by accepting Christ to go forward. Scores did so. An after-meeting of ten minutes or longer was held after the congregation was dismissed.

Services every night this week at the Tabernacle at 7:30.

SUMMARY

For Hopkinsville is Prepared by Local Weather Clerk.

Local weather observer W. F. Randle, of the government service, has prepared the following table from the records, showing the total amount of rain fall, also the temperature here for the past six years.

	Temp.		Rainfall
	Max.	Min.	In.	Mo.
Feb. 1, 1901, to Feb. 1, 1902.	50	29	41.30	3.44
Monthly average.	50	29	41.30	3.44
Feb. 1, 1902, to Feb. 1, 1903.	54	29	49.50	4.10
Monthly average.	54	29	49.50	4.10
Feb. 1, 1903, to Feb. 1, 1904.	50	25	46.00	3.86
Monthly average.	50	25	46.00	3.86
Feb. 1, 1904, to Feb. 1, 1905.	50	25	55.50	3.39

Feb. 1, 1906, to Feb. 1, 1907.	50	29	50.00	3.10
Monthly average.	50	29	50.00	3.10

Total inches 233.88
Total feet 23.65
Total annual feet 3.94

It will be seen from the above that the monthly maximum ranged from 82 to 85. The minimum ranged from 25 to 31. The total annual rainfall was 233.88 inches, or a total rainfall in six years of 23 feet and 65 hundredths, or an annual rainfall of 3 feet and 94 hundredths—practically a rainfall of four feet. Can the United States beat us in temperature and rainfall?

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deep-seated. Many sudden deaths are caused by it. Heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney poisons, the blood will attack the vital organs, causing a paralysis of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

LEADING CITIZEN

Of Earlington Dies After Long Illness.

Earlington, Ky., Feb. 9.—John M. Victory, a leading citizen of Earlington, died last night. He is survived by his wife, three daughters and one son. He was born in Evansville, Ind., in February, 1851, and came to Earlington when a youth. He was in the employ of the St. Bernard Coal Company for a number of years, but entered the mercantile business for himself some fifteen years ago, in which he has prospered. Mr. Victory was widely known in business and political circles and had until the past few years taken an active part in Democratic politics. He was a Catholic and a member of the Knights of Columbus.

To the Fathers, Mothers, Young Men and Young women of Hopkinsville!

THE MANAGEMENT OF THE

First National Bank

desires your serious attention on a matter pregnant with interest to all who believe in the serious question of money saving. The first and most serious consideration of parents is for the future success and happiness of their children and it is the bounden duty of every father and mother to encourage their children in the habit of saving what they earn, and it is the first duty of a boy or girl to form the habit of saving what they earn, thus laying the nucleus for success in life and a comfortable competence for old age.

NOW LISTEN.

The First National Bank has adopted a new system to encourage money saving among all classes of money earners in Hopkinsville and vicinity, which is at once the most practical and economizing proposition that has ever been devised to encourage savings. Remember, it is doing the small things in life that makes possible the accomplishment of great things, for just as sure as man is mortal or to err is human, the man who fails to save the nickles, dimes and quarters will never possess the dollars in hundreds or thousands.

Here's the Proposition.

We ask every man and woman, boy and girl to open a savings account in the First National Bank, beginning with a deposit of at least one dollar. We will pay 3 per cent interest, compounded semi-annually. In order to aid you in this laudable work we have purchased a large number of beautiful steel pocket banks, morocco-leather bound, and most attractive, which we propose to lend to every man, woman, boy or girl, who opens a savings account with us for $1.00 with the serious purpose in view of adding to it each month. We wish it explicitly understood that the little pocket bank is not a toy, is not to be given away as a souvenir, nor sold, but must be regarded as solely the property of The First National Bank, as much as any other part of its assets. We are taking ourselves very seriously in instituting this work and believe it will prove the greatest campaign of education ever inaugurated in this community for the young people.

Our Solicitors will Call at the home of every citizen in Hopkinsville and the country contiguous and we bespeak for them a cordial reception and close attention while they explain our new system and its merits.

Call at the Bank today and have the system fully explained. We know the people of Hopkinsville and our farming community pretty well, but we wish to know them better. That is why we are doing this work. Come in today, tomorrow, every day and get better acquainted.

The Young Physician.

WHAT HIS EXPERIENCE PROVED.

In the early practice of medicine it was usually the duty of a practicing physician to ride many miles every day on his regular rounds of visits upon his patients. In this case a young man who had received a splendid medical training in one of the best medical colleges of that day was accustomed to ride ten, twenty, thirty miles or more visiting the sick and afflicted. His success was soon phenomenal. Dozens and families called upon him for consultation to towns at considerable distances by rail. His specialty was the cure of those common and distressing diseases of women. He had early discovered that by combining the extracts of the following medicinal plants, in just the right proportion, without the use of alcohol, his "Prescription" almost invariably cured such cases. Later, in order to give this remedy before the public in a shape to be prepared, he established a laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., where regularly qualified chemists were put in charge to reproduce his "Prescription" and put it in shape for shipment to all parts of the world. This remedy, which he named Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, is not a "patent medicine," but a pure and powerful preparation, and a regular physician's prescription, and contains the following ingredients: Lady's Spleen root, Black Cornish root, Unicorn root, Blue Cohosh root, Golden Seal root, and chemically pure glycerine.

Dr. Pierce's "Prescription" does not claim for itself a "cure-all." It is recommended as a most perfect specific for women's peculiar ailments. So uniform are the results which follow the use of this remarkable remedy, that it can be truly affirmed of "Favorite Prescription" that "deliberate help and almost certain cure." Ninety-eight per cent of the women who give this medicine a fair and faithful trial are cured and remain cured.

It is a powerful invigorating tonic, imparting health and strength in particular to the womb and its appendages. The local, womanly health is so intimately related to the general health that when diseases of the delicate womanly organs are cured the whole body gains in health and strength. For weak and sickly women who are "worn-out," "run-down" and "run-to-rags," especially for women who work in store, office or schoolroom, who sit at the typewriter or sewing machine, or bear heavy household burdens, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will prove a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving power.

WOMAN SCIENTIST

MME. CURIE HAS RIVAL IN PER-SON OF MRS. AYTTON.

Has Been Awarded the Hughes Medal
by the Royal Society for Work on Electric Arc and Sand Ripples.

Women scientists are to the fore in England. It has not been long since England and the rest of the world were talking about the remarkable achievements of Mme. Curie in the discovery of radium, and now Mrs. W. E. Aytton, an English woman, the wife of the well-known electrical engineer, inventor and professor has been awarded the Hughes medal by the Royal Society for her experimental investigations on the electric arc and also upon sand ripples. The award comes with particular meaning to her, for it is not only the first time that the Royal Society has granted a medal to a woman for her unaided efforts—Mme. Curie's medal was received for work done in collaboration with M. Curie—but there is a touch of revenge in her present success. For ten years she was refused the election to a fellowship solely because she was married.

The whole of Mrs. Aytton's investigations and researches with regard to the electric arc she gathered into a volume, which was published in 1902. She is, as is well known, the lady member of the Institute of Electrical Engineers. But the Hughes medal of the Royal Society has been awarded her not only for these researches, but for experimental investigations on sand ripples.

"I happened to be at Margate with my husband," explained Mrs. Aytton, "and there I first became interested in the sand ripples and tried to find out how they were caused, partly by observation, but much more by experiment. You see, it is impossible to make the sea do exactly what you want; and, further, in observing ripples on the shore one must look down on them, and it is essential to watching such processes to see them in profile. So I had proper glass troughs made, and I found out exactly how ripples were caused."

"You see, sand ripples may seem at first a small subject, but any explanation involves all the principles underlying the motion of water and of bodies oscillating in the water. I am still engaged in these researches, and am occupied with two papers dealing with two different parts of the subject."

"One's aim in scientific research of this character," said Mrs. Aytton, "in answer to an inquiry as to the object of her work, 'is to find out what underlies certain phenomena, but I feel sure that in the end it will be of practical use in dealing with coast erosion or quicksands. At present our knowledge of the motion of water is slight. I believe, too, to be true—that the Goodwin sands are really huge ripples. There is a narrow spit of land near the Goodwins, and it seems possible that if the configuration of the shore could be altered and the trend of the water changed the Goodwins might disappear."

On the interesting character of scientific research Mrs. Aytton was enthusiastic.

"There is nothing so fascinating, so absorbing," she said, "You think and think about certain phenomena. Till you think out a possible solution, and then you experiment to see if it is correct; and as you experiment your attention is drawn to fresh phenomena and experiments must be started afresh to account for these in turn."

"And I believe," remarked Mrs. Aytton, "that women are really well adapted for this work. They often have leisure; they have a great habit of putting two and two together—men deny that, but it is true—and they have quite as good powers of observation as men, and great patience. For scientific research you must have intuition, a kind of train imagination, that leads you to form a theory about what you see, from which you can experiment, and I think women have that intuitive power; the power, as it were, of spreading out facts in their minds and drawing the threads together, and coming to a logical conclusion. That is very different," concluded Mrs. Aytton, "with a smile, 'from being able to lay out these connecting threads for some one else to see.'"

Binders, Mowers, Rakes.

The praise of satisfied users throughout the agricultural world has made the name of DEERING so well known that it hardly seems necessary to dwell at great length upon the merits of the Deering machines. For those however, who have not had the pleasure and satisfaction of using this machine will say they run lighter, last longer and make more happy farmers than anything of its kind wherever grass and grain are grown. See them on exhibit, or phone or write the Planters Hardware Co., incorporated, for prices and full particulars.

Deering Binder Twine

Another thing that makes the farmer happy is TWINE that will work in all makes and kind of binders, one that runs even, and the long, smooth and strong, made of the best of manila and sisal fibre the world affords. Give us

The Mail for Fairplay

BY CHAS. W. CUNO.

(Copyright, 1907, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)
"Well, sir," says "Hee Haw" Smith, as he came into the scale-house and knocked the mud from his shoes, while the weighmaster was taking a check of the "cut" note—a train of cars, "did I ever tell ye how we took the United States all to Fairplay?"

"Naw," says "Easy Money" Hawkins, "and as I can recollect of 'bout a ferrin' to my notebook."

"Tell it," says Bill.
"Gimme a chew," "Hee Haw" says kind of promissory like, sitting down on the keg and pulling out his jack knife.

Both Bill and "Easy Money" pulled out a plug, but "Hee Haw" took "Easy Money's," it was bigger.

"Do you know," says he, "what old 'Happy Cal' used to say about bitin' 'fen his plug of tobacco?"

"Naw," says "Easy," "not as I—"
"Well," says "Hee Haw" interrupting, "Cal used to say he'd a heap rather yerd bite off'n his plug than pinch it off with yer fingers, 'cause ye get yer fingers in lots of dirtier places than ye could yer teeth."

"Aw," says Bill, "let's hear about the mail for Fairplay. Don't believe ye ever went there."

"Shure," says "Hee Haw" paying no attention to this slur upon his veracity, as he returned the much diminished plug to "Easy." "It was this way," he continued, slowing the chew in his left cheek and spitting on the floor.

"I was working for the D. L. & G. in '81, when albug 'bout November it began to snow. Great Roosevelt! How it did snow!

Ye know what a jerkwater road the D. L. & G. was anyway, snowed in 'bout half the time in winter. Well, it was the worst winter we ever had in snow. Did ye ever buck snow, bu fellers?"

"Buck snow," says "Easy Money." "Why, back on the Pan Handle—"

"Pan Handle," sneered "Hee Haw," "why, jumpin' toothache, man, what does the Pan Handle know about snow? Pan Handle! Why, man, there's no snow on no mile of the D. L. & G. on Borers hill than there is on the whole thousand miles of the Pan Handle."

"Go on," says Bill. "Let's hear about the mail."

"As I was sayin'," says "Hee Haw," shifting his chew to the other cheek, "there'd come an awful snow. It was all we could do to keep the main line open and a side spur like that from Como to Fairplay the company didn't aim to keep open now."

But they didn't reckon on the United States government. The road had been tied up for about three weeks when some official in Washington with a hot walnut under his collar began to stir things up.

"There's a sack of mail in Denver for Fairplay," he telegraphs to the general manager. "Why don't the D. L. & G. deliver it?"

"Buck was the general manager then. He sits down and telegraphs back: 'Snowed in.' 'Snowed in' he 'Snowed,' says the official at Washington, 'the mail's got to be delivered,' says he.

"Buck laughs when he gets the telegram, and thinks that's about the end of it, but it wasn't. That pesky official comes all the way from Washington to Denver to see about that mail, and when he walks into Buck's office, Buck knowed it was up to him to do something.

"He sits down and telegraphs to Como: 'Send crew of 81 with snow plow and three engines to Fairplay with the United States mail.' Eighty-one; that was us. We just come in from Leadville with a train load of iron ore, buckin' snow all the way for 14 hours, but that didn't matter. It was go or get canned, so we went."

"We got out on the snow plow and the engines and hitched on a caboose."

"Rotary?" says Bill.
"Rotary—naw," says "Hee Haw," disgustedly. "In them days they didn't have nothing but the common ordinary snow plows."

"Just before we started the '2:10' pulled in and the mail clerk shoved a sack into the caboose. Deliver that to the postmaster at Fairplay," says he. "All right, old timer," says I, and gave the circle eye (engineer) a high ball (popular signal of railroad men, with hand held high in the air, which means 'come ahead at full speed').

"Were any of you fellers ever on the Fairplay road? It's built like a snake with its appendages. When lots of times I've stood in the caboose and begged a chew from the fireman."

"Go on," says Bill, as "Hee Haw" paused for effect, "let's hear about the mail for Fairplay."

"Shure," says "Hee Haw," spitting on the stove again, "that was the toughest job of snow buckin' I ever tackled. We'd take a run at a snow drift, get about half way in and then stop. Then we'd back away again, take another run for it. By and by we'd get her packed as hard as the knolls on the doors of Hades, and then it would be all hands out with pick and shovel to dig out the rest of the drift. We had a dozen section hands with us, but you know how much good they are. I had I shovels three hundred tons of snow on that trip single-handed."

"Hee Haw" paused and eyed "Easy Money" and Bill to see if they would dispute his word, but they kept silence.

"Every cab window in the whole three engines was broke to lamp jewels. Thirty-six hours it took us to make that trip, and none of us shut an eye. When old Dad Perkins shut 'er off in front of the depot at Fairplay I was the firedest man that ever lived to tell it."

"Here," says I to the postmaster, handin' him the mail bag, "here's that bloomin' mail ye've been hollerin' yer head off about."

"He grinned kinder like a cow and took his key out to unlock it. It was shure an imposin' ceremony and after all that labor we thought we was entitled to seats in the parlay for the performance, so we all stood around."

"He opens the bag and squints in it first with one eye and then with the other. Then he turns the bag upside down and one little, lonely letter drops out."

"To Mary McFarlane," says he, readin' the address. "She lives on the McCook ranch. It's a love letter from her feller, I guess, and she won't be after it until the snow melts."

"Well, sir, I relieved my mind good and plenty right there."

"Well, sir, I relieved my mind good and plenty right there, and if Uncle Sam and his bloomin' mail service had wanted a concise and red-hot opinion of themselves, there's where they'd got it. When I got through I stomps into the telegraph office an' sings out: 'Here's where I resigns. I don't work another bloomin' minute for such a blitherin', blasted, one-lunged, lopsided railroad as this, if I have to pick sand hurs from grizzly bears for a livin'."

"You," says he.
"Then telegraph it to Buck," says I. And he did."

"Hee Haw" paused and punctuated his story by spitting on the stove again.

"Well, by gum," says Bill, solemn like, and winking slyly at me, "if that wasn't the letter I wrote to Mary. And she never got it, neither. It was returned to me three months afterward from the dead letter box."

"Hee Haw" opened his mouth to say something, but just then the weigh master came back and he rose, begged another chew from "Easy Money" and went out to switch the "cut."

USEFUL ACCOMPLISHMENTS.

BABY COVERED WITH SORES

Would Scratch and Tear the Flesh Unless Hands Were Tied—Wasted to a Skeleton—Awful Suffering for Over a Year—Grew Worse Under Doctors—Skin Now Clear.

WOULD HAVE DIED BUT FOR CUTICURA.

"My little son, when about a year and a half old, began to have sores come out on his face. I had a physician treat him, but the sores grew worse. Then they began to come on his arms, then on other parts of his body, and then one came on his chest, worse than the others. Then I called another physician. Still he grew worse. At the end of about a year and a half of suffering he grew so bad I had to tie his hands in clothes at night to keep him from scratching the sores and tearing the flesh."

"He got to be a mere skeleton, and was hardly able to walk. My Aunt advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. So I got her for him. I told her she gave me a small piece of Soap to try and a little of the Ointment. I took it home without any faith, but to please her I tried it, and it seemed to dry up the sores a little."

"I sent to the drug store and got a cake of the Soap and a box of the Ointment and followed the directions, and at the end of about two months the sores were all well. He has never had any sores of any kind since."

"He is now strong and healthy, and I can sincerely say that only for your most wonderful remedies my precious child would have died from those terrible sores. I used only one cake of Soap and three boxes of Ointment."—(Signed) Mrs. Egbert Sheldon, R. F. D. No. 1, Woodville, Conn., April 22, 1905.

The Jamestown Exposition

Which is to be held near Norfolk, Va., in 1907, will be absolutely unique and will represent, together with the United States and foreign naval display in conjunction with it, more than $300,000,000.00. A visit to this great international exposition will be a liberal education. It will open April 26th, 1907, and close November 30.

DISTRICTS.

DISTRICT NO. 1.—All that portion of Christian County outside of Hopkinsville and East of the L. & N. Railroad.

DISTRICT NO. 2.—All that portion of the County outside of Hopkinsville, West of the L. & N. Railroad and South of the West fork of Little River.

DISTRICT NO. 3.—All that portion of the County North of the West fork of Little River and West of L. & N. Railroad.

DISTRICT NO. 4.—City of Hopkinsville.

Read Carefully Our Plan!

THE KENTUCKIAN will send to the Jamestown Exposition the four most popular young women in Christian County. The Kentuckian will pay every cent of expense, including railroad fare; Pullman fare; meals on train; hotel bills, street car fare; admission to grounds and amusement concessions; side trips to points in the vicinity of the Exposition grounds.

The contest is open to any young lady making her home in Christian County. For each year's subscription to the Kentuckian at $2.00 the subscriber will be entitled to cast 40 votes.

Our contest began Nov. 15th and will continue for 6 months; to May 15.

YOU choose the candidate—We don't. The minute a vote is cast for a young woman she becomes a candidate and her name is placed upon the published list, together with the total vote cast for her up to the time the list is published.

When a subscription is received at this office the subscriber is first credited with the amount of his subscription and the number of votes his subscription represents is credited to the candidate named by him.

The vote will be COUNTED EVERY FRIDAY at noon and each candidate will be credited with her new vote and her total vote to date and the result will be published in the next issue of the Kentuckian.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

Mrs. S. W. Anderson and Mrs.
Clarence Finn, of Owensboro, returned home Saturday, after a visit to Mrs. R. C. Hardwick.

Rev. Geo. W. McPherson, supply
for the absent pastor of the Baptist church, arrived from New York
Saturday night and preached Sunday morning to a large congregation.
The evening service was not held on account of the Methodist revival
service at the Tabernacle. Mr. Mc-Pherson will board with Mr. J. H.
Anderson.

Mr. E. M. Nuckols, who recently recovered from a spell of typhoid fever, after spending two weeks
with his parents near Bell, has returned to Louisville greatly improved.

Dr. Andrew Sargent went to Louisville Sunday, where he will locate.

Miss Carrie Moore has returned from a visit to her parents at Marion.

Fritz Fallenstein has returned from a visit of two months to relatives in Germany.

Max J. Moayon has returned from a sojourn of several weeks in the mountains of East Tennessee.

Judge Polk Cansler has returned from a business trip of several weeks
to Texas.

Mr. Lucian Cayce, who had been in the city a couple of weeks, left
this morning on a trip. Mrs. Cayce
will go to Memphis in two weeks,
where Mr. and Mrs. Cayce will make their future home.

Thoroughly Reliable.

If ever there was a reliable and
safe remedy it is that old and famous porous plaster—Alcock's. It has been in use for sixty years, and is as popular to-day as ever, and we doubt
if there is a civilized community on the face of the globe when this wonderful pain reliever cannot be found.
In the selections of the ingredients
and in their manufacture the greatest care is taken to keep each plaster
up to the highest standard of excellence, and so pure and simple are the ingredients that even a child can use them.

Alcock's are the original and genuine porous plasters and are sold by Druggists in every part of the civilized world.

He Changed His Habits.

March 1908—One year hence.
Oh! that young fellow with the smart business air! Yes, that's Mr.
Jack Wise. He's the real thing now,
but you ought to have seen him a
year ago, he wasn't worth a sou-
marque. What brought the change?
A change of habits. He earned a good salary but spent every cent of it and borrowed from whom ever he could. He was regarded as a nuisance generally but tolerated for his family's sake. About a year or so ago he was induced to start a saving account with the First National Bank of Hopkinsville for $1.00
through the medium of their little Pocket Saving bank and that's the whole story in a nut-shell. He has won the respect of everybody in town and his kinsfolk are mighty proud of him. The girls think him
the real candy and you know there's nothing makes a young fellow feel more like climbing the ladder to the top than the knowledge that Miss Bright Eyes is watching him. Everyone shouts "All hail!" to Jack Wise.

his position with J. H. Anderson & Co., and will go to Greenville tomorrow, where he has accepted a position as manager of a large dry goods and clothing establishment.
Mr. and Mrs. Waddington have made many friends during their stay here, who regret that they are to leave.

F. E. B.

We heard a man say the other morning that the abbreviation for February—Feb.—means Freeze every body, and that man looked frozen in his ulster. It was apparent that he needed the kind of warmth that stays, the warmth that reaches from head to foot, all over the body. We could have told him from personal knowledge that Hood's Sarsaparilla gives permanent warmth, it invigorates the blood and speeds it along through artery and vein, and really fits men and women, boys and girls, to enjoy cold weather and resists the attacks of disease. It gives the right kind of warmth, stimulates and strengthens at the same time, and all its benefits are lasting. There may be a suggestion in this for you.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

Mrs. S. W. Anderson and Mrs. Clarence Finn, of Owensboro, returned home Saturday, after a visit
to Mrs. R. C. Hardwick.

Rev. Geo. W. McPherson, supply
for the absent pastor of the Baptist church, arrived from New York
Saturday night and preached Sunday morning to a large congregation.
The evening service was not held on
account of the Methodist revival
service at the Tabernacle. Mr. Mc-Pherson will board with Mr. J. H.
Anderson.

Mr. E. M. Nuckols, who recently
recovered from a spell of typhoid
fever, after spending two weeks
with his parents near Bell, has returned to Louisville greatly improved.

Dr. Andrew Sargent went to Louisville Sunday, where he will locate.

Miss Carrie Moore has returned
from a visit to her parents at Marion.

Fritz Fallenstein has returned from a visit of two months to relatives in Germany.

Max J. Mooney has returned from a sojourn of several weeks in the mountains of East Tennessee.

Judge Polk Casler has returned from a business trip of several weeks
to Texas.

Mr. Lucian Cayce, who had been in the city a couple of weeks, left
this morning on a trip. Mrs. Cayce
will go to Memphis in two weeks,
where Mr. and Mrs. Cayce will make their future home.

Thoroughly Reliable.

If ever there was a reliable and
safe remedy it is that old and famous porous plaster—Allcock's. It has been in use for sixty years, and is as popular to-day as ever, and we doubt
if there is a civilized community on the face of the globe where this wonderful pain reliever cannot be found.
In the selection of the ingredients
and in their manufacture the greatest care is taken to keep each plaster
up to the highest standard of excellence, and so pure and simple are the ingredients that even a child can use
them.

Allcock's are the original and
genuine porous plasters and are sold
by Druggists in every part of the civilized world.

He Changed His Habits.

March 1908—One year hence.
Oh! that young fellow with the
smart business air! Yes, that's Mr.
Jack Wise. He's the real thing now,
but you ought to have seen him a
year ago, he wasn't worth a sou-
marque. What brought the change?
A change of habits. He earned a good salary but spent every cent of
it and borrowed from whom ever he could. He was regarded as a nuisance generally but tolerated for his family's sake. About a year or so ago he was induced to start a saving account with the First National Bank of Hopkinsville for $1.00
through the medium of their little Pocket Saving bank and that's the whole story in a nut-shell. He has won the respect of everybody in town and his kindfolk are mighty proud of him. The girls think him
the real candy and you know there's nothing makes a young fellow feel
more like climbing the ladder to the top than the knowledge that Miss Bright Eyes is watching him. Everyone shouts "All hail!" to Jack Wise.
